

Kyle's Korner

We experience a great number of firsts in life, but for every first there is a last. When I prepared to graduate high school, I had a teacher that would tell us to "Freeze the moments!" You don't get them back, so, basically, remember your experiences and these moments while they are happening. To this day, I have learned to take mental snapshots in my mind, of which I can remember vividly certain details of these moments and how I felt in them.

I am preparing for my last week at the preschool I've spent the last six years working at. I also have family and friends graduating, experiencing their own lasts. Marissa is preparing for her future, doing what she has been dreaming of. And I guess the flip side of my statement earlier is that for every last there is a first. And many of these firsts that are to come are, at this point, still a mystery. When experiencing a last, we don't always know what is to be. So, I'm freezing moments, and looking forward to what is ahead, whatever that may be!

The chorus of a song we occasionally sing (words written by Ira Stanphill) is... "Many things about tomorrow I don't seem to understand; But I know Who holds tomorrow, And I know Who holds my hand." The sentiment of the song is that though we may not be aware of what tomorrow will bring us, we can know that God is guiding us to and through our tomorrows, and that should give us great comfort. "Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things..." (Matthew 6:34, NKJV).

Are you facing lasts and firsts (or firsts and lasts) in your life? Are you trusting God to guide you through them - studying the Scriptures to know His will for you on Earth? There is no way we can control what happens to us in this life or what we'll be facing, but we know our God. We know He loves us and is working out what is in our best interest (Romans 8:28). My best advice for you is to lean on the Lord, and He will direct you in His way.

Of all the parables that Jesus taught, and of all the characters in these parables, only one is actually mentioned by name. You know who this is don't you? - The correct answer is Lazarus and the account is found in Luke 16:19-31. According to the parable, Lazarus lived outside the door of a rich man and he was so helpless the dogs would come to lick his sores. No name is given for the rich man.
