

Kyle's Korner

Christians have much to be thankful for. Typically, around this time of year, we are reminded of things such as family, food and other physical possessions. But there are other blessings given to Christians that we don't always remember when counting our blessings.

First and foremost, Christians should be thankful for the Bible. From the time I started in the nursery class of Sunday School, I have been taught to love and appreciate God's Word. I was taught to take good care of my Bible, to read it often, etc. Considering that it wasn't even all that long ago that the Bible was put into its current form - the early AD 1600s - should make it even more special because, before that, a copy of God's Word was hard to come by, especially for the average citizen. The ability to read God's Word on a daily basis is something we should appreciate and be thankful for. The ability to read for ourselves and understand it, making sure we are doing as God will for us is something that, though it is often taken for granted, should never be.

The love of Christ, whose sacrifice purchased our redemption, is another thing that Christians often forget when numbering our blessings. Because we weren't there to experience the events of the Old and New Testaments in person makes it hard for us to put everything into perspective. Jesus didn't have to give His life for us, but He did. What if He didn't go to the cross for us? We would still be lost in our sins. Yes, we are told what we need to obey the gospel (faith, obedience and faithfulness), but without His sacrifice none of it would have meaning. We are not under the old law requirement of animal sacrifices. We are, instead, offered full forgiveness in Christ. We can know that we are saved in Him, and this is one of our greatest blessings.

There are other things for us to be thankful for, but maybe in the week ahead as we can, at least, think on these things and thank God for all He has given us.
